Our Process

Jaye Applewaite provides a unique bespoke bridal service for brides wanting a signature look for their big day. Great care is taken in the making of each custom gown, ensuring the perfect fit and intricate detailing through fittings.

Couture dress design is an evolving process, each gown is a handmade work of art. Keeping an open mind during the process, enables your dress design to evolve and transform into the perfect dress!

As your wedding day is important to us, our philosophy is to keep the process an enjoyable and memorable experience. The unique and personalized experience of having a custom-made wedding dress begins with a one-on-one consultation with Jaye herself in which you will have the opportunity to discuss your vision, followed by a few fittings to refine the fit and style of your dress, and then finally completion and collection of your dress.

Fittings

Our dresses are all hand-made with love, featuring gorgeous details that emphasize your features and silhouette.

The construction of your dress starts with the foundation of your dress, which is then embellished with intricate beading and stunning lace appliques applied by hand. At your fittings we will ensure that your dress is fitting perfectly and watch as your dress comes to life with the placement of the lace appliques.

International Brides

Your consultation would be conducted via phone, email, Whatsapp, skype, etc. We'll discuss your ideas, and overall vision for your wedding day and your wedding dress.

You'll be sent a full comprehensive measurement chart to fill out with your measurements. Our meticulous made-to-measure process and quality stretch fabrics will ensure a perfect fit.

Once production of your dress is started you will be sent progress photos. If you are not able to travel to Barbados for your fitting, dress toiles would be sent to you for you to try. Once you receive the toile, you will try it on and send your feed back in terms of notes and pictures. The toile does not have to be returned, it's yours to keep. Once your dress is completed, if you are unable to travel to Barbados your dress would be shipped to you.
